

Create OWN StackView component that can switch between vertical and horizontal. Also it should have option to enable or disable separators between each component. Separators can have different color.